

Building Green in San Diego

Exploring a Green Building Project Together

Our first exploratory meeting last Friday was a success!

We achieved our purpose: to introduce the idea to a broader number of partners, educate them on Green Design possibilities and realities and begin to co-create together.

This email serves to highlight exciting outcomes from the event, list some of the next steps, and invite you to attend our next meeting on November 6th.

NEXT STEPS:

- ✓ Meet with public officials to discuss the idea if a “model” project in San Diego - water authority, health services, environmental services, etc.
- ✓ Identify 1-2 green/ clean-tech Fortune 1,000 companies as additional partners in this effort
- ✓ Utilize Anders Nyquist’s Phase I checklist for developing our vision together for what we’re trying to accomplish

EXCITING OUTCOMES FROM LAST FRIDAY:

- ✓ Beginnings of a vision for a sustainable campus
- ✓ Connected green building professionals that can help make this a reality
- ✓ Discovered we have similar ideas of what we want to create
- ✓ Highlighted potential public-private partnership, given the emerging issues such as water shortages and rising energy costs
